GREETINGS OF WELCOME

To The New Students:

The Young Men's Christian Association of The Citadel presents this little volume to you with its warm compliments and hearty greetings of welcome to this, the Military College of South Carolina. We welcome you to the new life and fellowship that a college education will bring to you, and we want you to feel in the beginning that the Young Men's Christian Association is here to SERVE YOU. The Association is here for your own welfare and the Secretary is your friend. He covets an early and warm acquaintance with you—look him up and give him a chance. You can perhaps get to him easier and earlier than he can get to you.

To The Old Students:

By your aid and co-operation the Y. M. C. A., has become a very potent activity in cadet life and a valuable agency for the promotion of the better and nobler influences that help to round out a man's education. We want you to start in with us again, in the very beginning, and help us to make the "Y" a still greater organization for your own welfare and the welfare of the institution.

TO RECRUITS ESPECIALLY

When You Arrive:

1. Turn your baggage checks over to an agent of the Charleston Transfer Company as soon as you get off the train or before. There is always an agent about. This Transfer Company advertises with us and we owe them our patronage.

2. Look for the fellows in uniform. They represent the Citadel Y. M. C. A. and are there to meet and help you: USE THEM.

3. The first formation that you will be required to meet will be at nine o'clock the morning you report.

4. Next, DO WHAT YOU ARE TOLD.

Read this book carefully and keep it with you. You will find a great deal of useful information in it that you might not otherwise get.

Always do what you are told and do it carefully and cheerfully.

Watch your demerit record.

Read the "ADS" and patronize the advertisers. They helped to give you this book.

Let someone else find out your importance.

Get busy and study the first month. It is easier to keep up a good average than to pull up a bad one.

Watch the bulletin boards daily. Let nothing escape.

The upper-classmen will be glad to help you anytime.

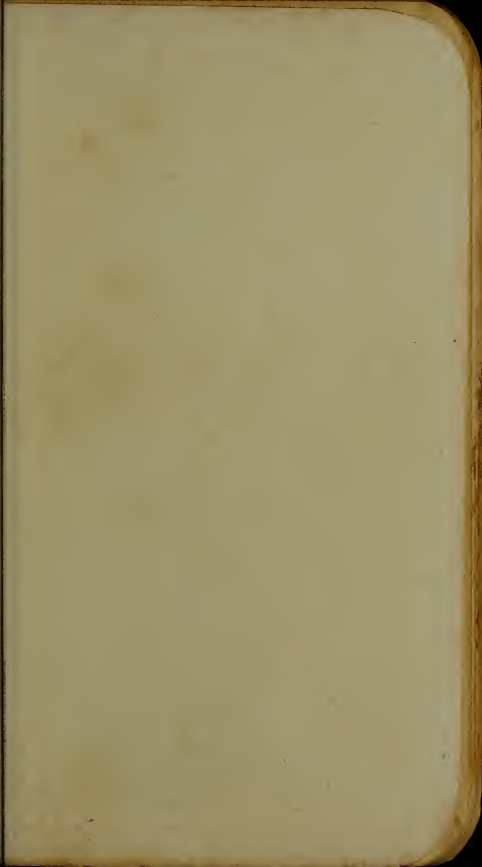

Pick out the "Y" Secretary and make him your friend—that is part of his business.

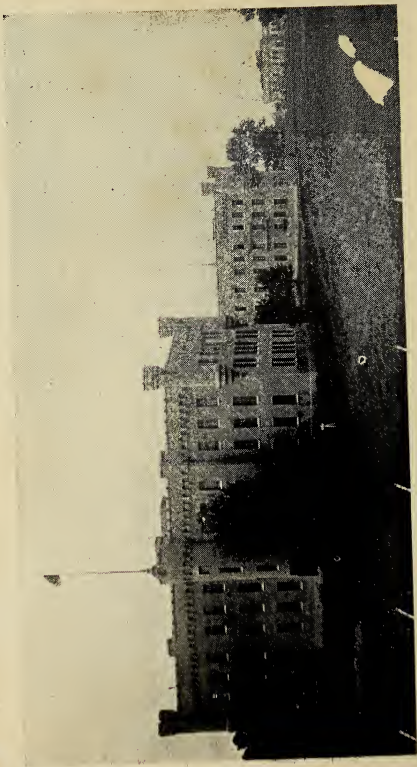

Get acquainted with the faculty. You will find them human too.

Make the City Y. M. C. A. your down-town headquarters.

Get the BULLDOG SPIRIT early.

DEDICATION

---

to the
FATHERS AND MOTHERS
of
CITADEL BOYS.

In grateful appreciation of their watchful cares, noble sacrifices and prayers for their boys, this little book is dedicated.

AFFECTIONATELY

“And God created Man in his own image, in the image of God created he him.”

“It is not good that man should be alone; I will make him a Help-meet for him.”

The POWER HOUSE of MANKIND.

The citizen standing in the doorway of his home, contented on his threshold, his family gathered about his hearth-stone, while the evening of a well-spent day closes in scenes and sounds that are dearest—he shall save the republic when the drum tap is futile and the barracks are exhausted.

Henry W. Grady.

AFTERWHILE

Afterwhile we have in view
The old home to journey to ;
Where the Mother is, and where
Her sweet welcome waits us there,
How we'll click the latch that locks
In the pinks and hollyhocks,
And leap up the path once more
Where she waits us at the open door ;
How we'll greet the dear old smile
And the warm tears, afterwhile.

James Whitcomb Riley.

THE SEVEN WONDERS

In the world of the parent and boy today are seven important matters about which mother or father is wondering—the SEVEN WONDERS, we may call them. They are:

1. I wonder if my boy will keep physically fit.
2. I wonder if my boy will have a clear brain.
3. I wonder if my boy will come through clean.
4. I wonder if my boy will enjoy manly sports.
5. I wonder if my boy will always do his bit.
6. I wonder if my boy will be a brother to the other fellow.
7. I wonder if my boy will catch the spirit of Christ and hold fast to Him forever.

James M. Ogden.

ATTENTION MEN!

Go to CHURCH Sundays!

Do not stop after having attended the Sunday morning chapel service. Don't be persuaded that you have discharged your religious obligation for the day. You may have to hustle to get down town but it will pay.

In the churches you will come in contact with the BEST people of the City and they are always glad to see Citadel men. In this way, you will perhaps gain access to the finest homes in the city and make friendships that will be life-long. It will enable you to keep the "church touch" too, one of the most valuable assets of the Christian life.

TO GO TO CHURCH is:

Your Parent's Wish,

Your Privilege as a Christian Gentleman!

Your Obligation to your MAKER!

Fulfill these obligations and be a better man therefor!

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the HOUSE of the LORD."

THE FOUR MEN.

Someone has wisely said that there are always Four Men:

- (1) The Man the Crowd sees.
- (2) The Man your Intimates see.
- (3) The Man You see—in solitude.
- (4) The Man God sees.

Which of These is most Prominent in You?

LIST OF CHURCHES AND PASTORS

FROM A CARPENTER'S SHOP

"A boy of twelve in old Jerusalem one day realized that He had reached the age when He must think for himself and make decisions. Without false ideas and independence He went back to His home and workshop and did the things His parents thought best, but He began that day to live His own life and to make plans for helping the world. When He grew to manhood He healed sick people, comforted the sorrowful, pitied those who did wrong, divided His food with the hungry, strengthened the weak and made friends with the children. He loved the sea and boats, the hills and fields, flowers and birds. He was brave in danger, patient when persecuted, heroic in temptation, pure in heart, and so loving and unselfish that millions of people who never saw Him love Him and would lay down their lives for Him. He did not preach long sermons—He never wrote a book. You could easily commit to memory all His recorded words. He died poor and almost friendless, and yet we celebrate His birthday throughout the world; we date our letters from the year of His birth; we offer in Congress and Parliaments prayers in His name. The history of His life is printed in four hundred languages. Kings and emperors, presidents and judges, statesmen and scholars, peasants and slaves, declare this to be the greatest and best of all books. Thousands of magnificent buildings have been erected to Him — abbeys, cathedrals, and churches. Our greatest colleges were dedicated to this poor boy who never went to college. From His life and death painters, poets, orators, and musicians have gained their highest inspiration. From this wonderful, perfect boyhood and the work it began, girls and boys of every land may learn kindness, courage, obedience and devotion to duty."

J. M. LELAND, Gen.-Sec. Citadel Y. M. C. A.

THE Y. M. C. A.

THE AIM OF THE Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association has always sought to lay its emphasis upon the "Christian" and the Citadel Y. M. C. A. seeks the same purpose. In our religious meetings, Bible study, recreational activities, and in all our efforts, the background is the "Christian" in our title. If we seem to fall short, don't blame us for it, help us to strive harder in the future. None of us are perfect; all of us make mistakes.

We can seek no higher goal than that which is set before us—there is no higher to be sought. We seek the BEST—for YOU—won't you help us in such a worthy undertaking?

We seek:

1. To lead students to a faith in God through faith in Jesus Christ as their divine Saviour, according to the Holy Scriptures.
2. To lead students into membership and service in the Christian Church.
3. To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Scriptures.
4. To train them for work and leadership in applying the principles of Christ to the problems of human society.
5. To win their life devotion to the purpose of Christ for the evangelization of the world.

WHY is the Y. M. C. A. ?

OUT of the desperate needs of young men, with infinite powers, unguessed, misused and repressed, rose a cry—young men, congested, exploited, tempted and ready to die.

That was, and still is, one reason why.

INTO the lives of Christian young men came that cry—young men also tempted, but knowing the way of victorious living, and ready to vie with each other in giving themselves and their efforts to answer the cry.

That is one reason why.

INTO life programs of purposeful men came that cry—men richly gifted, who gladly passed by alluring careers, with vision uplifted, to answer the cry.

That is one reason why.

INTO the hearts of resourceful men came that cry—men of broad interests, who matched life with treasure, and without measure, to answer the cry.

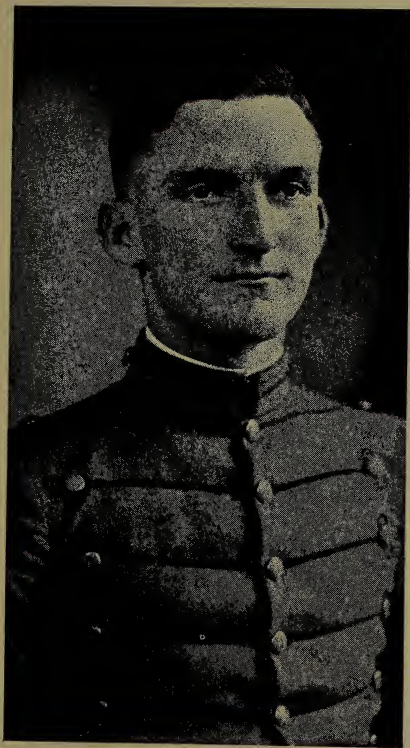

That is one reason why.

THIS "cry of the city" came into the ear of the Father on high. His infinite pity kindled the lives of Christian young men, lifted the visions of purposeful men, opened the hearts of resourceful men and answered the cry.

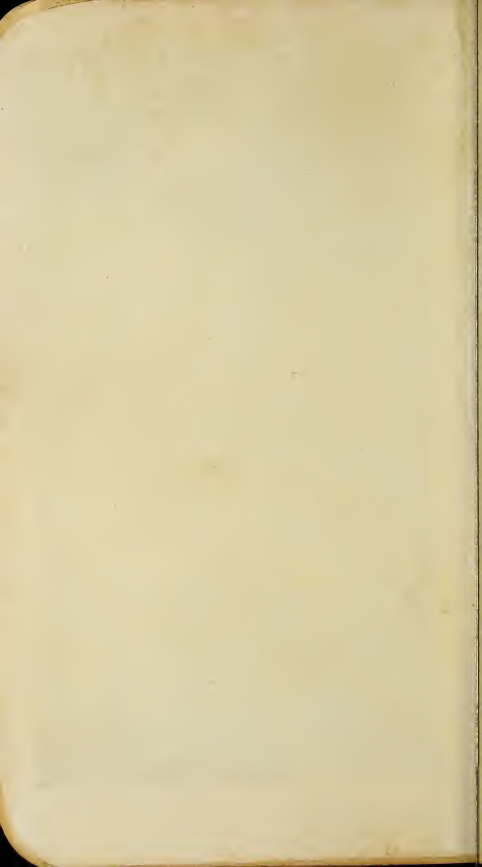

That was, and still is, the chief reason why!

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To The Corps of Cadets:

I wish to extend to each of you, both old and new, a hearty welcome as we enter again into cadet life. I feel that we have just ahead of us the biggest and best year that we have ever had. Within the past few years the Y. M. C. A. has made rapid strides forward and now stands out as one of the leading organizations in the Corps.

Since we are in our new quarters the Y. M. C. A. has a wider field in which to work and also a bigger responsibility to bear. Throughout the coming year the chief aim of this organization will be to make cadet life more home-like and more comfortable. We desire to have a feeling maintained in every cadet that this is a student organization which functions to aid students in every way.

(Signed) David S. McAlister.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS

Every Sunday night, immediately after the inspection by the first relief, a religious meeting is held in the Literary Society Hall under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. This is a voluntary meeting and the only one that cadets are privileged to attend on Sunday night. The meetings are usually featured by good singing, a good crowd, and a fine spirit, as well as a splendid talk or address by some prominent minister or layman of the City, or outsider. Some men of national and international note are frequently brought to us. A number of vocational addresses are put on some time during the year also. A good spirit of fellowship is manifested at these Sunday night meetings and a fellow is sure of enjoying the service. A hearty welcome awaits you. GET THE HABIT of going from the first and KEEP IT UP!

MORNING WATCH

Immediately after reveille every morning the year round, groups of cadets meet in the Literary Society Hall and the Ladies Rest Room to observe the Morning Watch:—pause for a few minutes for a brief Scripture lesson and season of prayer. Quite a number of men attend these groups daily and gain strength and inspiration for the day's work. "Prayer is the key of the day", has been learned and demonstrated. Get in one of these groups.

BIBLE STUDY

Some form of Bible Study is conducted every year by the Y. M. C. A. The class or classes usually meet on Thursday night for a short while after supper; and as well as being diverting from a hard schedule of work are interesting and helpful. This is proven by the large number of men who enroll every year. Some time during the year a Banquet is given for the class and a "good time is had by all" always.

Last year the Study was conducted by Dr. C. F. Wimberly, one of the most prominent ministers in the City, and was given in a series of lectures on fundamental Bible doctrines. The largest enrollment in any Bible study ever put on at The Citadel was the result of his course.

RECREATION ROOM

A large Recreation Room is maintained by the Y. M. C. A. and equipped with a Victrola and records, a large supply of current magazines, newspapers, various games, Bulletin Boards and pictures. You will soon find out where this place is and what you can do in some of your spare time. The Room is YOURS—use it!

COLLEGE NIGHT

At the beginning of each year a social event called "College Night" is held in the mess hall. After a big feed, with music by the orchestra, short talks are made by various cadets representing the different college activities:—athletic teams, Literary Societies, Y. M. C. A., etc. Alumni and friends of the institution are always present and some of these address the corps briefly.

"College Night" seeks to give the new cadets an insight into the life of the Citadel and to make them feel at home. It gives them an opportunity to learn the songs and yells, and helps to impart to them a little of the "Bulldog Spirit".

ENTERTAINMENTS

During the year the Y. M. C. A. aims to put on a few entertainments of some kind, entirely free and open to everybody. This is a new idea of last year but has already proved to be a good one. Ask any old man about the night of "Rousements" last year and he will probably hold his sides yet laughing at some of the things "pulled off" that night. You will hear about these and you will be there too.

RIFLE RANGE

Every year the entire corps goes into encampment for two weeks on the rifle range at Mt. Pleasant and while there every man is given a chance to demonstrate his ability to shoot. You soon learn how it feels for the Springfield that you have been cleaning and handling all the year as a piece of dead iron and wood to be suddenly transformed into something live and deadly when you feel the kick of a .30 U. S. Army cartridge.

The Y. M. C. A. is there too. A building is given over to the use of the Association and it affords a wholesome place for the spending of spare time:—writing, reading, playing games, enjoying music, etc.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER

For a few years there have been from one to five young men who have dedicated their lives to the cause of the foreign missionary enterprise. The Des Moines Convention in the Christmas holidays of 1919 was the immediate cause of the beginning of this noble work at The Citadel. Several graduates are now taking special training for the work of the foreign missionary and will go out to devote their lives to this work as soon as their preparation is completed. If you are interested in this great work of the church, the missionary enterprise, talk it over with the President or the Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

STUDENT CONFERENCES

The Y. M. C. A. sends delegates each year to the various Conferences and Conventions that meet in the State. Chief among these are the State Student Volunteer Conference, which meets in a college town and draws student delegates from every college and institution of higher learning within the State, and the Southern Student Conference, which meets at Blue Ridge, N. C., in June after college closes and draws delegates from all the Southern States. At both these gatherings speakers of local, national, and international repute are secured. The Citadel Association has representatives at each gathering and the information and inspiration brought back from such places are felt by all the student body. The Association is always looking for GOOD MEN to send to these Conferences and if YOU are interested get in touch with the Secretary in plenty of time.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

The Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions holds every four years a great International Convention for students to consider the needs of the non-Christian world and to lay its burden upon the hearts of the student generations of the United States and Canada. The next one of these great gatherings will meet during the Christmas holidays of this year, Dec. 28, 1923 to Jan. 1, 1924 at some large city in the Middle West or North (Convention City not announced at this writing). The Citadel will be expected to send a number of young men to this Convention and we will early be on the lookout for the right men. 4,500 students from all parts of the world will meet together and the fellowship and inspiration will be inestimable in its final outcome. Keep this on your mind. Would you like to be one of the lucky number to go from the Citadel Y. M. C. A.?

AND DON'T FORGET BLUE RIDGE. This is one Conference to which we can always send MORE MEN if we can get them. You can not spend ten days after the close of school more pleasantly nor more profitably ANYWHERE than at Blue Ridge:—the meeting place of the South's finest students every year. If you once go, you will always be enthusiastic about the wonderful place and want to go every year afterwards. REMEMBER BLUE RIDGE IN JUNE AND SEE THE SECRETARY IN PLENTY OF TIME ! ! !

PLUCK AND LUCK

"One constant element of Luck
Is genuine solid old Teutonic Pluck.
Stick to your aim, the mongrel's hold will slip;
But only crowbars loose the BULLDOG'S
grip.
Small though he looks, the jaw that never yields
Drags down the bellowing monarch of the fields."

Selected.

"For such as You, dear Mother mine,
I want to keep the road
Where worthy men, clear-eyed and frank.
Live by their honor code.
I know, in that great mother heart,
There is a sacred shrine,
Where I, in all perfection live—
Your boy, Dear Mother mine!
I must be strong, I must be clean,
In mind and body too—
My debt to all posterity
And women such as You."

—YOU—

In Her Thoughts

(Note. Let each man THINK as he reads this little poem that its lessons may go home to him. It is hoped by the Editors that the purpose the author had in mind for all men may be attained in the lives of Citadel men.)

After the ball last night, when I came home
I stood before my mirror, and took note
Of all that men call beautiful. Delight,
Keen, sweet delight possessed me when I saw
My own reflection smiling on me there.
Because your eyes, through all the swirling hours

And in your slow good night, had made a fact

Of what before I fancied might be so;
Yet knowing how men lie, by look and act,
I still had doubted. But I doubt no more.
I know you love me, love me. And I feel
Your satisfaction in my comeliness.

Beauty and youth, good health and willing mind,

A spotless reputation, and a heart
Longing for mating and for motherhood,
And lips unsullied by another's kiss—
These are the riches I can bring to you.

But as I sit here, thinking of it all
In the clear light of morning, sudden fear
Has seized upon me. What has been your past?

From out the jungle of old reckless years,
May serpents crawl across your path some day

And pierce us with their fangs? Oh, I am not

A prude or bigot: and I have not lived
A score and three full years in ignorance
Of human nature. Much I can condone,
For well I know our kinship to the earth
And all created things. Why, even I
Have felt the burden of virginity.
When flowers and birds and golden butterflies
In early spring were mating; and I know
How loud that call of sex must sound to men
Above the feeble protests of the world.
But I can hear from depths within my soul
The voices of my unborn children cry
For rightful heritage. (May God attune
The souls of men, that they may hear and heed
That plaintive voice above the call of sex:
And may the world's weak protest swell into
A thunderous diapason—a demand
For cleaner fatherhood!)

Oh, love, come near.
Look in my eyes, and say I need not fear.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

YOU WILL NEVER BE SORRY
FOR:—

LIVING a WHITE LIFE;
DOING YOUR BEST;
YOUR FAITH in HUMANITY;
BEING KIND to the POOR;
LOOKING BEFORE LEAPING;
HEARING BEFORE JUDGING;
BEING FRANK and CANDID;
THINKING and SPEAKING.

OWL PHILOSOPHY

Trifles make perfection, but perfection is no trifle.

The doorstep to the temple of wisdom is a knowledge of our own ignorance.

Patience is the key of contentment.

He who can disregard popularity and be faithful to his own convictions has found the secret of power.

What kind of company do your thoughts keep?

There can be no compromise with Honesty and Virtue. You either ARE or you are NOT.

Beware what you set your heart upon for it surely shall be yours.

If all else fails there is always one profession that is not overcrowded—you can always be a GENTLEMAN.

When a man is wrapped up in himself he make a pretty small parcel.

The shallows murmur
But the deeps are dumb.

A rose to the living is more than sumptuous wreaths to the dead.

Memory paints a perfect day with colors that never fade.

Not failure but low aim is crime.

No great man minds stooping.

THE LOSERS

There's many a song for the victor proud,
The rose for the victor's feet;
The loud applause of the fickle crowd
Will follow him up the street.
For the thing that wins is the thing that won,
And success success pursues—
But I sometimes wish, when the race is won,
They would sing to the ones who lose.

The man with bay on the victor's brow,
With gold as the ample prize,
Has little need for your shouting now,
When his soul has found the skies.
To the man who lost all the world is wrong,
For lost is the faith of men;
O singer, weave you a losers song
That will lift his heart again!

When the race is run and the victor hailed
I turn to the loser's place
And I search the souls of the ones who failed,
With naught but defeat to face.
And I do not know what the cause, the cost;
It was good they sought or a sin;
But my heart goes out to the fellows who lost—
For I know that they wanted to win.

Douglass Malloch.

COMMON SENSE RELIGIOUS PRINCIPLES.

To err is human ; to forgive, divine.

We can never be the better for our religion
if our neighbor be the worse for it.

Man's extremity is God's opportunity.

Religion is the best armor a man can have but it is the worst cloak.

The tomb is but the gateway to an eternity of opportunity.

The ideal life is in our blood and never will be still. We feel the thing we ought to be beating beneath the thing we are.

Practical religion is the kind that helps you
to live ; not to die.

Life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities.

Trust that man in nothing who has not a conscience in everything.

All one's life is Music if one touched the notes rightly and in tune.

Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God.

Who seeks for heaven alone to save his soul,
May keep the path but will not reach the goal.

Howe'er it be, it seems to me,
'Tis only noble to be good.

Duty, then, is the sublimest word in the language.

WHEN I MET THE MASTER FACE TO FACE

I had walked life's way with an easy tread,
Had followed where comfort and pleasure had led,
Until one day in a quiet place
I met the Master face to face.

With station and rank and wealth for my goal,
Much thought for my body but none for my soul,
I had entered to win in life's mad race
When I met the Master face to face.

I had built my castles and reared them high,
With their towers had pierced the blue of
the sky,
I had sworn to rule with an iron mace
When I met the Master face to face.

I met Him and knew Him and blushed to see
That His eyes, full of sorrow, were fixed on me,
And I faltered and fell at His feet that day,
While my castles melted and vanished away.

Melted and vanished and in their place,
Naught else did I see but the Master's face,
And I cried aloud: "O make me meet
To follow the steps of thy wounded feet!"

My thought is now for the souls of men,
I have lost my life to find it again
E're since one day in a quiet place
I met the Master face to face.

Last Words of Edith Cavell, the English Nurse-heroine: "But this I would say, standing as I do, in view of God and eternity; I realize that patriotism is not enough. I must have no bitterness nor hatred toward anyone."

SAYINGS—WISE and OTHERWISE.

A good laugh takes the kinks out of one's cosmos.

It is better to turn around than to turn turtle.

If you can't be a shining sun, don't be a cloud.

Each flea thinks he lives on the most wonderful dog in the world. That's patriotism!

I kicked a skunk as he went by—
The skunk was incensed—so was I.

Life does not consist in holding a good hand, but in playing a bad hand well.

I am an old man and have had many troubles, but most of them never happened.

Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Kick and you kick alone;
For the cheerful grin will let you in
Where the kicker is never known.

It is hard to win a good reputation and harder to keep it. A bad reputation is easily made and keeps itself.

Two it takes to make a quarrel; one can always end it.

Good luck will help a man over the ditch—if he jumps hard.

World without end; Amen.
World without men, Ah me!

Truth crushed to earth shall rise again.
The eternal years of God are hers;
But Error, wounded, writhes in pain,
And dies among his worshippers.

IT COULDN'T BE DONE.

Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he, with a chuckle, replied;
That "Maybe it couldn't," but there would be some

Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.
So he buckled right in, with the trace of a grin
On his face—if he worried he hid it:
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done—and he did it.

Somebody scoffed, "Oh, you'll never do that—
At least, no one has ever done it."
But he took off his coat, and he took off his hat,

And the first thing we knew he had begun it.
With the lift of his chin and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting or quiddit,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done—and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,

There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one
by one,

The dangers that wait to assail you,
But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Then take off your coat and go to it;
Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done"—and you'll do it.

ETERNAL WRITING

A little boy once wrote his name in the sands of the seashore, but afterwards the tide came in and washed it away. Later in life he carved it upon a tree, but the tree died. Still later he cut it deep in the face of solid rock, but an earthquake came and shattered the rock. Finally, he said, "I will write it on the hearts of men". That is the only successful way.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF THE CITADEL.

Previous to the year 1841, the State of South Carolina had two depositories for its arms and munitions of war:—The Citadel in Charleston, and The Arsenal in Columbia. These were guarded by companies of enlisted men, with trained officers, and were maintained at an expense of twenty-four thousand dollars per annum.

It was Gov. Richardson who made the suggestion that these garrisons be replaced by young men, who, while serving as guard, should receive military training, and instruction in the practical and mechanical arts. Under the administration of his successor, Gov. Hammond, an Act of the Legislature was passed in 1842 creating The Citadel and Arsenal Academies.

The Board appointed by the Governor to carry out the purpose of the Act lost no time in performing their duty, and the Faculty of The Citadel was elected on Feb. 23rd. following. By March 20th. both the Citadel and The Arsenal were in operation.

In arranging the course of studies for The Citadel, the report of the Board to the General Assembly says: "The Board have aimed at a system of education at once scientific and practical, and which, if their original design is carried out, will eminently qualify the cadets there taught for almost any station and condition of life."

The Arsenal, at first co-equal with The Citadel, was soon incorporated with it, and had for its special function the instruction and training of recruits forming what was known as the Fourth Class.

The first class, numbering six men, was graduated in 1846. C. C. Tew, first honor man of his class, afterwards founded the Hillsboro Military Academy in North Carolina, was Colonel of N. C. troops in the Confederate Army, and killed at Sharpsburg, Sept., 1862, while commanding Anderson's Brigade.

The value to the State of the military training given at The Citadel is strikingly shown by the fact that, of the two hundred and forty graduates before the close of the War between the States, about two hundred were officers in the Confederate service, and forty-three laid down their lives upon the battlefield. The list of Citadel officers in that great conflict is an honor roll of which any institution may well be proud.

There are two dates in the history of the State Military Academies which mark the boundaries of this greatest military struggle of the century. Between Jan. 9th., 1861, and May 9th., 1865, what a tragic history was enacted!

On the former date, Maj. P. F. Stevens, Superintendent, and a graduate of the Citadel, in command of a detachment of Citadel Cadets manning a battery of 24-pounders on Morris Island, drove off the steamer, "Star of the West", which was attempting to relieve Fort Sumter—thus firing the first hostile shot of the War.

On the latter date, Capt. J. P. Thomas, Superintendent of The Arsenal, and also a graduate of The Citadel, with the cadets of his command, had a skirmish with Stoneman's raiders, near Williston, S. C., thus firing the last shot of the War delivered by any body of troops east of the Mississippi River.

At the present time, the corps of cadets has an annual drill for the "Star of the West" medal, a handsome trophy for the best-drilled cadet of the corps,, presented to the institution many years ago by Dr. B. H.

Teague, a veteran of the War. This medal gets its name from a piece of oak wood, in the form of a star, taken from the historic vessel.

At the fall of Charleston, in February, 1865, The Citadel was occupied by Federal troops. The corps of cadets was at that time in the field in the upper part of the State, and never returned to the institution, which continued in the hands of the United States military authorities, in spite of the best efforts of the State to recover it, until 1881.

In that year Gov. Hagood said in his annual message to the General Assembly: "The State Military Academy at Charleston has been suspended in its operations since the late Civil War. This has been due to the fact that the building known as The Citadel, in which it has its seat, has been since the close of the War in the possession of the United States authorities, and has been used by them until recently as a military post.

"It is understood that the General Government is now prepared to restore it to the custody of the State. It is desirable that this property be recovered, and again devoted to the purpose of higher education, in the facilities for which our needs are greater than the source of supply."

An Act to authorize the reopening of the South Carolina Military Academy was passed by the General Assembly, and approved January 31, 1882.

The Citadel was reopened on Oct. 1st., 1882, with 189 cadets, and has been in continuous and successful operation ever since.

In 1888, the sum of $77,250 was recovered from Congress for the occupation of the Citadel building by the Federal troops, and for the destruction by fire of the West Wing while occupied by them. With this fund the Wing was restored, and the building thoroughly equipped in its departments.

In 1908, the Central Police Station, which was erected on the King Street end of the Citadel property, just after the earthquake in 1886, was purchased by the State, and fitted up for the use of the college.

In 1910, the the Legislature fixed the title of the institution as "The Citadel. The Military College of South Carolina." In the same year an appropriation was made for the construction of the Meeting Street Extension, thus completing the design and furnishing equipment for all the anticipated needs of the institution.

But the college soon demanded larger quarters and, to meet this need, in 1918, the City of Charleston offered the State a magnificent tract of nearly 200 acres of land adjacent to Hampton Park, beautifully situated on the Ashley River, for a "Greater Citadel". The Legislature accepted the offer and in 1918 and 1920 made appropriations for the necessary buildings.

During the next two years the construction of the new plant was in progress, and the session of 1922-23 opened in the commodious quarters which had been provided at a cost of more than a million dollars. The college facilities in laboratories and classrooms have been largely increased, dormitory accommodations have been enlarged forty per cent, and ample and beautiful grounds for all military work and athletic activities have been provided.

ASSOCIATION OF GRADUATES.

All graduates and cadets who have been honorably discharged or permitted to retire are eligible to membership in the Association of Graduates. Membership in the Association is a duty every alumni owes to his Alma Mater. All Citadel men know that The Citadel, in its class, is not surpassed by any military college in the United States, and is coming to be the "West Point of the South". And with the hearty co-operation of the alumni, forming a strong Association, the institution can be helped to this lofty position.

The Annual Banquet is held on the night before Commencement and the graduating class is invited to be present so that they may all be assembled once, with previous graduates, before scattering. The members of this class become members of the Association the first year without the payment of any dues, but after this year they are expected to pay the small annual membership dues of two dollars, or twenty-five dollars for life membership.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies at The Citadel, namely, the Polytechnic and the Calhiopean. They are open to membership for all cadets who wish to join and every man is urged to ally himself with one of these organizations. Many a man comes out of college lamenting the fact that he did not take better advantage of the opportunities offered him by the societies in his college but never a one comes out regretting the fact that he spent too much time and energy in this line of work. No phase of a man's education is more important than literary work and no place affords the chance of cultivation that a Literary Society does.

The Citadel takes part in Intercollegiate Debating Contests in the State and in the State Oratorical Contest and the men who represent the college in these important events must of necessity be men who are cultivating their talents in this respect and who have had some experience.

MEDALS AND DECORATIONS

"Star of the West" Medal.

Each year the Corps of Cadets holds a competitive drill in the manual of arms for the "Star of the West" Medal, a handsome trophy presented to the institution many years ago by Dr. B. H. ## The "Willson Ring".

This ring, given each year by Dr. John O. Willson, late President of Lander College, is awarded to the member of the Senior Class, voted by his classmates "the purest, most courteous, and most manly" cadet in his class.

This a coveted honor.

The Scholarship Medal.

This medal is yearly awarded to that member of the Senior Class who has made the highest average during his four years at The Citadel.

 They rambled all around, in and out of town,
 Oh, didn't they scramble. They rambled,
 They scrambled till that Bull Dog cut him

A T H L E T I C S

Athletics at The Citadel are under the control of the Citadel Athletic Association, a cadet organization. However, members of the faculty are elected to supervise this organization each year. Under the influence of Major Henry Raines, the Director of Cadet Affairs, athletics have thrived as never before. Major Raines has a good head for business and has no trouble keeping the finances of the Association in good order, so that our teams have been better equipped than ever. There are also several cadet officers to be elected; namely: Cheer leaders, managers and captains of the various teams, etc. The Athletic fee entitles all cadets to free admittance to all contests at home.

THE COACHES

What successes we have had in athletics are chiefly due to our splendid staff of coaches. When "Shorty" O'Brien resigned and Coach Prause took charge, an athletic rejuvenation took place under his influence and organization. He is always on the job, between games and seasons as well as on the field, to lend all manner of encouragement and spirit to his teams and all the men love and admire him. He is the head coach of athletics at present. In George Rogers we have as good a line coach for football and as good a baseball coach as can be found in the south. He is always on the job and the men all look up to him and work for him. And in "Fanny" Myers we have a basketball coach second to none other. For years he turned out nothing but championship teams and last year he took nothing but green material and whipped it into a team of high standing in the state.

THE BULLDOG SPIRIT

There is something that every Citadel man has when he leaves his Alma Mater, a thing that he cherishes as a most valuable part of his training, and a thing which he could not easily obtain at any other college. This something is a thing which enables him to stick to any task, whether it be athletics, studies, military or business, until it is carried through to a successful conclusion. And you may ask: "What is this thing?" The answer is: "THE OLD BULLDOG SPIRIT". There is nothing like it on earth and it is recognized in every Citadel man no matter where he may be.

It is this spirit which has caused The Citadel to stand so high in the military world, that is having the honor of a "Distinguished Military School" in the eyes of the United States Government. It is this spirit which causes the athletic teams to fight and fight hard with odds heavily against them until the last whistle has blown. It is this spirit which causes the Citadel athletics to be kept on such a clean standard. The Citadel teams are noted over the state and even outside for the clean and fighting games that they put up. One coach in the state has said that if he only had the "CITADEL SPIRIT" in his college he could easily win the state championship in football.

Finally the same spirit instilled in a man as a Citadel Cadet, which makes him fight so hard to be successful in college activities, shows up in after life where it still makes him struggle to the end for success in everything he undertakes and always causes him to carry it through with flying colors never to be downed.

FOOTBALL.

In the beginning of the year football seemed to be in a hopeless mess. Our coach had resigned and only two letter men and a few substitutes were back on the job, and to cap the climax the captain and star tackle of the team did not return. However, when we found Coach Prause we found a man who has labored without ceasing and who proved to be a far better coach than the one who resigned. With the aid of George Rogers, he started to whip what material he had into a team that could be depended on. Many of his players had never played football before, but were trying for the team gamely. Although we did not win the majority of games, we upset the "dope" in each of them by our game fighting which was commented upon in papers all over the state. We had probably the lightest team in the state and held Carolina to two touchdowns, Furman to four and Clemson to three, exhibiting game fighting spirit and comebacks in every game. The other games that we lost were only by a narrow score. We won however over the Southern College, the Marines, the Old Timers, and Erskine.

CITADEL Y. M. C. A.

[illegible]

Our freshman also had a strong and fighting though light team. Under the instruction of Lt. McQuarrie they developed into a well rounded crew and lost only two games in the state, one to Wofford by a one point margin and one to Carolina which was lost by pure luck. We won many including Porter and Carlisle.

Now that we have an athletic field and quite a bit of material from the freshman class and will only lose a few men next year, we should and will turn out a team who will be nothing short of state champions and in future years we hope to win many big games outside the state.

THE PALMETTO 1924 BASEBALL SCHEDULE

[illegible]

BASKETBALL

When the basketball season opened "Fanny" Myers found himself greatly handicapped by the return of only one of last year's letter men and as no material from the freshman class could be used he had to rely on what he could scrape from the rest of school.

With all of this green material Coach "Fanny" succeeded in turning out a team which had the pep and fight to win. We were defeated for the first time in a long period of years on our home court both by Carolina and Newberry. We lost to them and to Furman on the upstate trip but succeeded in winning all the rest of the games in which we took part. The Rats also put out a team under the tutelage of O'Shaughnessy. They made a splendid showing, winning many games.

We will soon have a gymnasium of our own, thanks to the Alumni, and with a wealth of material from the freshman class should in the future as well as next year again turn out nothing but Championship teams.

BASEBALL.

Coach Rogers is much handicapped this year by the fact that he has lost most of his letter men and will have no material from the Freshman Class. The pitcher whom we prized so much last year is among the losses and a new pitcher will have to be found. Neely, Stehmeyer, and Hiott are trying for that position while Robinson and Exum are trying for the Catcher's job. The infielders are McDowell, Sheppard, Mood, Fuller, and Neely and the outfielders are White, Woods, McAlister and Stehmeyer. This team is out working hard and it looks as if they ought to have a very successful season.

THE SWIMMING TEAM.

The Citadel is exceedingly proud of its swimming team this year and it has reason to be for it is the best in several states. Anderson, J., Anderson, S., Cantey, J., Pegues, and Exum are the chief components of this organization. We traveled to Atlanta to meet the famed Georgia Tech mermen. We returned having romped on them for the decisive victory of 51-29 in their own pool, being the first time in the last decade that a South Carolina team has successfully competed with Georgia Tech in anything except Basketball. We later beat the "Coolege" in Charleston at the Ashley Hall Kettle Drum by a score of 48—14 thereby winning the city championship and for the second consecutive year the W. P. Cart silver loving cup.

TRACK

Track interests have again revived at The Citadel. Although no meets were taken part in, a large field meet was staged between the companies and was hotly contested. "A" Company nosed "C" Company out of first place by winning the relay in the last half mile of the day. Royall was the star for the day, winning first in all the dashes and being the man who beat "C" Company on the last half-mile of the relay. He won a gold medal as individual high scorer. As several good records were made in this meet it is hoped that in future years we will turn out a track team which will take a successful part in meets all over the country.

TENNIS.

The Citadel has not placed a tennis team in the field for a number of years and interest in this game has somewhat died out. However recently six courts have been constructed, the first that The Citadel has ever had. Interest is rapidly reviving in that game and in the course of a few years The Citadel should turn out some championship teams.

HONOR SYSTEM OF THE CORPS OF CADETS OF THE CITADEL.

We, the members of the Corps of Cadets of The Citadel, earnestly desiring to develop the honor spirit of the Corps into a system that will fortify the strong members of the Corps, strengthen the weak ones and eliminate any who may be so depraved as to hold in disregard the principles of truth and honor which are the chief glory of any institution and which we are determined to inculcate and defend as the most treasured possession of the student body of The Citadel, do ordain and establish this honor system for the Corps of Cadets of the Citadel.

PRINCIPLES

1. The honor spirit of the Corps of Cadets of The Citadel demands of every cadet that he shall be an honorable gentleman, and that he will never, while a member of the Corps, be guilty of an act reflecting discredit upon his honor and integrity, or in any way countenance such an act by a fellow cadet or allow it to go unpunished.

2. The honor spirit of the Corps further holds that it is the duty of an honorable gentleman to avoid, as far as possible, even the appearance of evil, and demands that every member of the Corps shall exercise the greatest care never to place himself in a position in which he might be suspected of dishonorable conduct.

RULES

7. The committee shall elect from its members a chairman and a secretary, who shall hold office until their successors have been duly chosen.

1. Resolved, That the Academic Officers be requested to approve this system and to co-operate with Cadets now at The Citadel and those who will enter in the years to come in establishing and enforcing it.

2. Resolved, That the Academic Officers be requested to report to the Honor Committee any violation of the honor code that may come to their attention and to appear before the committee and give testimony when the case is under investigation, and also to notify the committee as to any material testimony that they could give in a case otherwise reported to the Committee, and to appear before it when called.

3. Resolved, That it is a sense of the corps of cadets that a member of the faculty should be present during all examinations and classroom tests that count toward a cadet's graduation, for the purpose of giving proper dignity to the exercises and maintaining law and order, and resolved further, that such a member of the faculty, although not present for espionage, be requested to report to the Honor Committee any violation of the honor code that he may observe during the examination or test.

4. Resolved, That the members of the faculty be requested to take every possible precaution to seat cadets taking examinations and tests in such manner as to enable them to avoid the appearance of evil without subjecting themselves to inconvenience and physical discomfort.

5. Resolved, That the authorities of The Citadel be requested to provide an office, properly furnished, for the use of the Honor Committee.

6. Resolved, That the President be requested to make the announcement of the names of the members of the new Honor Committee a feature of the graduating exercises.

HISTORY OF THE HONOR SYSTEM.

The present honor system was adopted by the corps of cadets in 1916. Since that time an honor spirit has been grafted into the cadets that is hardly equalled and certainly unsurpassed in any other body of humans. The faculty has cooperated with the students admirably and we believe that our honor code and rules are unexcelled anywhere.

Before the present system was adopted the honor system applied to the students of the upper classes only. The recruit was not placed on his honor at all. Since recruits have been put on honor there is practically no cheating or dishonorable conduct in the corps of cadets.

We are justly proud of the honor spirit of the cadets and we hope that the new men will already have grasped the fundamentals of the honor system when they arrive at The Citadel.

For the information and guidance of the Corps of Cadets, the following interpretations are hereby placed on the following things by the Corps Honor Committee:

1. "All right, sir" on coming on sentinels post. After reporting "All right, sir" on coming on sentinels post, one cannot break barracks or visit; one cannot go the latrines or loiter on the gallery for the purpose of selling articles, raffling them off, or filling out dance cards. This does not apply to loitering while on authorized business, i. e., if you are going to the latrine or other authorized place on authorized business, and some one calls you as you pass his room, you can find out what he wants, this is merely punishable by military authority), or if you are in the latrine or any where else, on authorized business you may talk to other boys after you have finished. One cannot throw things on the quadrangle after reporting "All right, sir". One cannot report and go to the cadet canteen to get things during unauthorized hours.

Note:—After a cadet reports, this report holds good until he returns to his room.

2. The report "All right, sir" at the inspection of the first relief, means that all occupants of the room are in, or officially absent, and that no one is visiting.

3. At the inspection by the second and third relief the report means that no one is visiting in the room.

4. When a sentinel reports "All is well," on being relieved, this means that he has reported all cadets, who, at any time during his tour of duty, have visited across his post in so far as he knows; also that he has required all cadets to report "All right, sir" on coming on his post and has reported all those who fail to do so; also that he has made the required inspection and has reported all cadets visiting at those times. In case of the first relief it also means that he has reported all unofficial absentees. In case the lights are off in any room, a sentinel is required to turn them on and inspect the room, to see that no one is visiting there. "All night, sir" or any similar deceiving report, is a violation of the honor code. A sentinel is required to inspect all rooms on his post consecutively.

5. DANCE LEAVE. When a cadet reports "All right, sir" when returning from a dance, he signifies that he has complied with the following rules:

a. That he was at the dance at 12:00 midnight. This rule holds good whether he was with or without a lady.

b. If a cadet has a lady at a dance, he has one hour after the dance breaks up to use as he sees fit, or if he leaves before the dance is over, he must report back by the end of general leave, or one hour after he leaves the dance, as the case may be. If the cadet does not have a lady at the dance, he has ten minutes after the dance is over. He can use this ten minutes as he wants to.

6. Taking articles from wagons, stores, or any where else while on hikes, or in other places is a violation of the honor code.

7. Removing mail or papers of any kind which do not belong to you, from shelves or pigeon holes, is a violation of the honor code.

8. Scratching reports is a violation of the honor code. The following are considered as such:

a. Orderly not writing down names, when told to do so by O. D.

b. Section marchers not handing in reports given them by professors.

c. Intercepting a report at any time, in any way between the time it is entered and the time punishment is given.

d. Interfering with demerit book, or the confinement or tour sheet, so as to reduce ones demerits or punishment.

e. Any mmeber of the guard not entering any report given to him by a subordinate.

9. Cheating at any time, and any form, is a violation of the honor code. Gambling is not a violation of the honor code, but cheating while gambling, or any other game of chance, is a violation of the honor code.

10. It is the duty of all cadets, not merely members of the honor committee, to report all violations of the honor code that comes within their notice. Failure to do this is punishable by dismissal.

11. The honor committee holds that a cadet cannot go to the hospital at any other time than the regular hospital call, unless he is really in need of medical attention, i. e., a cadet cannot go to the hospital for the purpose of beating out of a class, or any other duty, and then submit an explanation saying that he was in need of medical attention.

12. Intentionally making incorrect report at any formation is a violation of the honor code.

13. Any explanation or application intending to mislead is a violation of the honor code.

14. Announcing for men to call numbers which have not called them in order for the man to be able to use the phone is a violation of the honor code.

15. Any act which has the purpose of conveying a deceptive impression, is a violation of the honor code. The following are classed as such:

1. Putting dummies or anything else in your bed so as to convey the idea that you are in bed.

2. Cadets being in bed for other cadets at TAPS in order to keep them from being reported absent.

3. Wearing distinctions of unattained honors, such as: Wearing an experts, or sharpshooter's badge when you did not qualify as such.

(Signed)

BENJAMIN R. FULLER, Jr.,
Chairman, Corps Honor Committee.

MILITARY.

When the Citadel was established in 1842, it was founded upon military principles. From the very beginning, it became noted for its military achievements and has remained on the distinguished list to the present day. It is noted for both the military achievements of its graduates and for the military activities within the college.

As to the military accomplishments of its graduates, we need only to refer to the honor rolls and distinguished lists of the wars that have occurred since 1842. In the War between the States the Citadel graduates played a leading role. The value to the State of the military training given at the Citadel is strikingly shown by the fact that, of the two hundred and forty graduates before the close of the war, about two hundred were officers of the Confederate service, and forty three laid down their lives upon the battlefield. The list of Citadel officers in that great conflict is an honor roll of which any institution may well be proud. Not only are we to be proud of this honor roll, but we should be even more proud of the honor roll of the World War. Again the Citadel graduates came to the fore, and helped bear the standard on to victory. They led their men bravely onward even into the greatest of danger, even in the face of death without showing the slightest trace of fear. They pressed ever onward not thinking of the dangers that surrounded them, not thinking of the end that might come without a moments notice, nor thinking of self in any way, but only thinking of the great cause for which they were fighting, and those for whom they were fighting. Our Honor roll and distinguished list for this war deserves great consideration. Such are the achievements of the graduates of this institution.

The military activities of the Corps of Cadets has been of such quality as to warrant the rating of the Citadel as a Distinguished Military College by the United States Government which is the highest possible rating. Every cadet strives to keep the college with its present rating by giving his best in the military activities.

We live with the traditions of the past hovering over us, and the prospects of the future ever before us, may we give our best to live up to these traditions, to keep the Citadel ever in the Distinguished class, and to press it toward the top in every sense of the word.

HOPS.

Dancing nowadays, has almost become a national pastime. It is enjoyed now by more young people than ever before. Realizing the tremendous popularity of this form of amusement the Citadel tries to furnish the Cadets with full benefits of this pleasure. The Citadel, for this reason, has become famous for its delightful and well conducted dances. These dances are conducted on the highest possible plane. Every month an informal mess-hall dance is held. In addition to these informal dances, five formal hops are given by the corps annually. These are: The Thanksgiving Hop. The Christmas Hop. The Senior Hop. The Picnic, and The Commencement Hop. Besides the informal and the formal dances given by the Corps each year a brilliant dance is given to the Corps by the Sponsors. This is known as The Sponsors Ball

The aim of the Citadel is to fit students by discipline and study for all the walks of civil life, and if necessary, to serve their country in time of war.

Thoro courses in mathematics, science, and languages offer an attractive program to young men who desire careers in professional life.

There is a lot of hard work at The Citadel, but there is time provided for necessary play. Athletics, social functions, literary societies, and the Y. M. C. A. give the Cadets relaxation from study, and training in moral, physical, and social qualities.
